At the conclusion of the three year window an assessment will be made of the program and its future.

ABOUT APSA MEMBERSHIP

By joining APSA you become part of the world’s largest political science association, with members in over 80 countries. APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to expand awareness and understanding of politics. Membership brings access to a wide range of APSA programs and opportunities, such as:

Access to Scholarly Research: each month members receive one APSA journal containing the latest peer-reviewed scholarship, book reviews, and news of the profession. Members have access to both current and recent back issues through Cambridge Journals Online. You’ll receive:

- > American Political Science Review - the discipline’s flagship journal featuring the foremost scholarly research
- > Perspectives on Politics - contains insight on important political problems through rigorous, broad-based research
- > PS: Political Science & Politics - journal of record for the profession, incorporating scholarly essays and news on the discipline.

APSA Annual Meeting and the Teaching & Learning Conference: Two major events in political science. Join 6000+ scholars at the Annual Meeting, host of the largest exchange of political science research and scholarship in the world. Members may register for discounted rate. The Teaching & Learning Conference is a smaller gathering of scholars and teachers dedicated to developing engaging techniques and practices in the political science classroom.

Centennial Center for Political Science & Public Affairs: A first-class research center established within APSA that provides office space to scholars and students conducting field work or writing in Washington, DC. Individuals may make use of the Center for several days or several months. International visitors are welcome. A modest facilities fee is charged to all users. Some grant support is available.

MyAPSA

Portal to online member services, including several directories, online access to APSA journals (APSR, Perspectives, and PS), eJobs, the Scholar Saver, and other APSA services.

CONNECTING SCHOLARS

Foremost, APSA enables political scientists to join together to create an environment conducive to teaching, research, and practice in all fields of political science and to ensure the necessary support for the discipline to thrive. We provide opportunities for communication with your peers, for presenting research at our annual meeting, for publishing articles in our journals, and for participating in a variety of grants and special programs.

If you have questions feel free to contact Sean Twombly, Director of Member Services, at twombly@apsanet.org or Bahram Rajaei, APSA’s Director of International Programs, at brajaee@apsanet.org.
